MAY BANQUET FEATURES SIGHTS, SOUNDS AND FLAVORS OF THE CARIBBEAN

Enjoy an evening trip to the Caribbean on May 8 at the May Banquet of the Christian Women's Fellowship. Fellowship Hall will be decorated in Caribbean colors, flags, and masks; our menu includes Caribbean flavors and spices; and the phenomenal MSU Caribbean Pan Ensemble will serenade us. Guest speaker Dr. Randy Glean, Director of MSU International Students, will tell us about the remarkable students who come to MSU from around the world. Some of those students will help to decorate and serve at the banquet, giving us an opportunity to greet them personally.

This is an event for the whole church and we hope you will invite family and friends. Please purchase your tickets early to help with us with our planning. Tickets are $10 each and available Monday through Friday in the church office as well as from CWF group leaders.

Don't miss this special "getaway" to the Caribbean brought to you by CWF.

CMF DINNER APRIL 20 SPOTLIGHTS TxDOT CENTENNIAL

The Texas Department of Transportation is celebrating 100 years this month, and guest speaker Adele Lewis will share highlights of this milestone at the CMF Dinner on April 20. It's important to understand the vital role TxDOT plays in economic development of the Lone Star State. TxDOT's management of airports, water ports, railroads and mass transit support both business and population growth throughout the state. From a time when the economic base of Texas was largely agrarian, TxDOT's precursor—the Texas Highway Department—formed in 1917 to administer the construction and maintenance of highways. The development of the highway system in Texas played a key role in bringing agricultural products to market. Since 1917, TxDOT has overseen the development and maintenance of an enormous and complicated infrastructure that goes well beyond roads and is fundamental to the state's continued economic wellbeing and growth.

Join us Thursday, April 20, at 6:30 pm, for a delicious steak dinner, plenty of warm hospitality and a great program. The meal is $7, no RSVP necessary, and everybody is welcome.

Cruisin' For Christ Car Show — April 29th

I don't have a photo of myself wearing my new shoes and Easter hat. But I'm sure these girls were uncomfortable, too.

EASTER CHANGES EVERYTHING

by Rev. Renee Hoke

I have a memory of Easter Sunday long, long ago. I am sitting with my family in church. My dad is seated on the aisle, then me, then my brother Mark, and finally my mom with my baby brother Gary in her lap. The preacher was talking. He'd been talking for a while. I passed the time by admiring the shine of my new patent leather shoes. It's easy to see your shoes when your feet don't reach the floor. In addition to new shoes, I had a new Easter hat with a pink ribbon and a wide brim. There was just one problem: the brim of my hat prevented me from resting my head against the pew. At some point comfort won out over fashion and I removed my hat and placed it carefully in my lap. The preacher continued to talk.

Needless to say, I wasn't focused on the good news of resurrection that year. When I came upon the following Easter reflection by Frederica Mathewes-Green, I knew we were kindred spirits.

"Back then Easter, compared to Christmas, was boring. Chocolate bunnies: good. Scratchy new crinolines: bad. Long blah-blah-blah at church. A lot of wordy build-up leading to, it seemed, no payoff. You could always count on Christmas to change a lot of stuff, especially the toybox. Easter didn't change anything.

"When I grew up, I began to be concerned with bigger things, many of them difficult to comprehend. I encountered suffering and death. I saw people live through situations so crushingly unfair that it was impossible that the universe bore no witness, impossible that there was no God who could wipe tears away and effect justice on the last day. I saw people find within themselves nobility to overcome, as well, and heard them say the strength came from a source beyond their own.

"Easter tells us of something children can't understand, because it addresses things they don't yet have to know: the weariness of life, the pain, the profound loneliness and hovering fear of meaninglessness. Yet in the midst of this desolation we find Jesus, triumphant over death and still shockingly alive, present to us in ways we cannot understand, much less explain. In him we find vibrancy of life, and a firm compassion that does not deny our suffering but transforms and illuminates it. He is life itself. As life incarnate, he could not be held back by death.

On Pascha (our Orthodox name for Easter) we sing, over and over, dozens of times, "Christ is risen from the dead, trampling down death by death, and upon those in the tombs bestowing life." It is not a children's song. But grown-ups are taller, and can see farther, and know what hard blows life can bring. Easter may seem boring to children. Yet it contains the one thing needful for every human life: the good news of Resurrection.

"Easter didn't change anything? Easter changes everything."

BRITE

DIVINITY SCHOOL

MEET THE FIRST RECIPIENT OF THE MUIR SCHOLARSHIP

Dear First Christian Church of Wichita Falls,

I am sincerely honored to have been selected as the recipient of the John T. Muir, Jr. Memorial Ministerial Scholarship. Thank you so much for your support. Because of your generosity, I am able to pursue my calling and to prepare for ministry at Brite Divinity School.

I am relatively new to Texas, having grown up and lived in various parts of Kansas over my life. I was an active member of a Disciples congregation in Olathe, KS, that was led at one time by a Brite graduate. I have also met several other Brite graduates over the years whom I have been honored to call friends. When I chose to begin a second career in ministry I knew that Brite was the place I needed to be.

This first year has been exciting and challenging as a student who has not been in a classroom setting for many years. However, I have greatly enjoyed the interaction with other students, my professors, and other staff members at Brite. It has only reinforced my decision to come here for school. I hope to eventually enter the ministry field with a focus on pastoral care.

Again, I am deeply grateful for the scholarship assistance that you provide. Thank you for your thoughtful and generous support of Brite and of my ministry.

Sincerely,
Jeff Spangler
Master of Divinity Student

"Why Are You Afraid?"

John 20:19-31

Dr. David B. Hartman, Jr.

New on the Library Shelves. . .

Charlton Heston Presents the Bible is based on the highly acclaimed television series of the same name. This book is designed for readers of all ages and religions who want to explore the Bible from a new perspective. Mr. Heston writes, "I am not a priest or a scholar. I'm a storyteller." In this book Mr. Heston shares his favorite stories from the King James Version. Each story is illustrated with classic works of art.

Erasing Death by Sam Parnia, M.D.

According to Dr. Parnia, death is a process that can be interrupted, under the right conditions, well after it has begun, with previously unthinkable outcomes now plausible. As an unintended consequence of new lifesaving measures, science is also asking fundamental questions about what happens to the "self" or "soul," during and after death. The first chapter is about a patient who has a near death experience which transforms him and removes his fear of death.

One reviewer has said: "Dr. Parnia is uniquely placed to understand the science underpinning cardiac arrest, CPR, and Near Death Experience, and he has the extraordinary ability to communicate these complex concepts in a way that readers will understand."

If God is Love – Rediscovering Grace In An Ungracious World by Philip Gulley and James Mulholland

The authors offer a broad sketch of a life of grace, trusting the reader to paint in the details for themselves. "Grace is the unfailing commitment to love all persons, regardless of their beliefs or actions."

They address many controversial issues people have wondered about but churches have been unwilling to tackle. For them the American tradition has been steeped in negativity, exclusion, and judgment for too long, and they encourage believers to enter into a new era where grace and love are allowed to reign.

We must learn to examine and discuss our differences without violating the autonomy and dignity of others. In a divided world, this is an important book for Christians to read.

Essential Judaism – A Complete Guide to Beliefs, Customs, and Rituals by George Robinson

This volume provides an up-to-date overview of Judaism. It is a readable guide to their traditions, everyday practices, and historical foundations. An unusual aspect is that it reflects the diversity of the Jewish people, from the Orthodox to the secular.
